Print Sources (Section 5.4-5.8 of the MLA Handbook, 7th ed.)

Basic Entry: Book by single author 5.5.2

Author. Title of Book. Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication. Print.

An Anthology or a Compilation 5.5.3

Editor(s) or compiler(s). Title of book. Place of publication: Publisher, year of publication. Print.

A Work in an Anthology 5.5.6

Author(s). “Title of Article.” Trans. [if applicable]. Title of Book. Ed(s). Editor’s Name(s). Place of Publication: Publisher, Year. Pages. Print.

Published Dissertation 5.5.26 (unpublished dissertations 5.6.25)

Author(s). Title of Dissertation. Diss. Institution, Year. Place of Publication: Publisher, Year of Publication. Print.

Article in a Magazine 5.4.6

Author(s). “Title of Article.” Title of Source. Day Month Year: Pages. Print.

Electronic Sources (Section 5.9 of the MLA Handbook) – If you decide to present a URL in your works-cited list entry, place the entire URL in angle brackets: <http://website>.

From the Web – A nonperiodical publication 5.6.2.b

Author(s), compiler, director, editor, narrator, performer, or translator of the work. “Title of the part of work.” Title of the Work. Version or edition (see 5.5.13). Publisher or sponsor of site (use N.p. if not available). Date (day, month, year). Medium of publication. Date of Access.

Work on the Web Cited with Print Publication Data 5.6.2.c.

Author [if given]. Title of work. Name of editor [if relevant]. Publication information for the original print version. Electronic publication information [e.g. title of the Internet site]. Web. Date of access.

Work on the Web Cited with Publication Data for Another Medium besides Print 5.6.2.d.

Author [if given]. Title. Name of editor, director, etc. [if relevant]. Publication information. Title of the Internet site. Web. Date of access.

Scholarly Journal 5.6.3

Author [if given]. “Title of the work or material.” Name of the periodical. Volume number. issue number (year): n. pag. Web. Date of access.

This guide is to help you prepare your list of works cited. For further assistance please contact your home library.

5/09 we/md